Earl R. Hammett

Mr. Hammett - one of Jackson County's most prominent civic leaders - was among 11 other County residents nominated for the citizenship award. Another Ingalls' employee, George L. Allen, government property administrator here, was also among the nominees.

Mr. Hammett was selected to receive the award by a panel of secret judges. Selection was based on the contributions made to the growth and development of the County.

The award banquet was attended by approximately 250 Jackson Countians. Hugh Moore, Pascagoula realtor, was master of ceremonies and County Supervisor Eddie Khayat was principal speaker.

In making the presentation to Hammett, Mr. Khayat made note of These civic, business and professional affiliations of Mr. Hammett:

Past president of Community Recreation, past president of Civic Council, chairman of World War II Bond Drive, member and board of Director of the Chamber of Commerce, past president of Pascagoula Rotary Club, past president Paspoint Little Theatre, past chairman of County Chapter of American Red Cross, Red Cross disaster chairman, vice-president of Pine Burr Area Council of Boy Scouts and in January 1962 received the Silver Beaver Award, highest award presented for Boy Scouting.

In addition, Mr. Hammett was a past director of Pascagoula Country Club, past president of Jackson County United Fund, is now a director of Merchants & Marine Bank, Pascagoula, Member of the Board of Directors Of Jackson County Port Authority, a trustee of Mississippi Manufacturers Association, member of the Society of Naval Architects and Marine Engineers and chairman of the Pascagoula Section of the American Welding Society.

Only four members of Reagan's original Cabinet — Agriculture Secretary John Block, Defense Secretary Caspar Weinberger, Commerce Secretary Malcolm Baldrige and Housing and Urban Development Secretary Samuel Pierce — are still in office.

Most of the other Cabinet-level posts have changed hands twice. So far Reagan has named three interior secretaries, three energy secretaries and three secretaries of health and human services.

"We are running about par for the course," Stephen Hess, a Brookings Institution political scientist said Wednesday of the resignation of White House National Security Adviser Robert C. McFarlane, and the leave of absence of NASA chief James Beggs this week.

"When we get rather up close to the things ... it looks as if 'Wow, here's an administration that's falling apart,'" Hess said.

"But when you look at a sweep of 20 years or so you start to see that this is a recurring problem," said the author of the book, "Organizing the Presidency."

By comparison, Richard Nixon replaced every member of his and three commerce secretaries. Three men also served Nixon as secretary of health, education and welfare and three others were am-

Attacked by dogs

Felts youth

After undergoing surgery 10 times for injuries sustained when he was attacked by dogs, 11-year-old Harvey "Raffe" Felts has been moved from the neuro-intensive care unit at Singing River Hospital to a private room. A hospital spokesman reported Raffe in satisfactory condition Thursday.

Raffe was playing in Gabriel Cemetery, adjacent to his father's business, Felt's Jewelers, 1758 Market St., the evening of Nov. 23 when he was attacked by three or four "gold, tannish-colored" dogs that "came over or through a fence," according to police reports. Officers said the youth saved his life by playing dead.

Based on information supplied by Raffe's father, Harvey C. Felts III, a number of dogs kept in a fenced area to the rear of Thunder's Tavern, 1340 Market St., were brought to the city dog
